There was a good deal of "burn" throwing of baselealls at the nigger baby, and not aftew lost several dimes in unsuccessful attempts to balance rings over the ends of valuable canes.

A number bravely rode the fiery steeds of the merry-go-round, and some tried their moscles at rowing. Whatever the game the business men showed that they were amateurs, and the worthy managers of the Beach were not losers by the generosity of wealth and talent of the retail dealers of the city.

Throughout the early part of the afternoon the participants in the outing continued, with unabated seal, their pursuit of the elusive pleasures held out on every hand. # GASOLINE STARTS A FIRE.

A Sudden Explosion in a Dye Factory Injures Four Persons. A gasoline explosion and subsequent fire at the dyeing establishment of Mrs. Christiana Haldeman, 1721 Pennsylvania Avenue northwest, last night about o'clock, resulted in injury to four persons and a loss estimated at $500. Samuel L. Haldeman, son of Mrs. Haldeman, together with Gilbert Tolson, employed about the establishment, are at the Emergency Hospital suffering from severe hurns. Haldeman will probably die. His brother, Frank Haldeman, was badly burned about the body, head, and face and is at his home, 1017 Twentieth Street northwest, in a critical condition. Frank Baker, a negro, also employed by Mrs. Haldeman, was slightly burned about the areas and received medical treatment as the Emergency Hospital before going

No sign of warning was had by those working in the establishment, which was badly wrecked by the force of the explosion. In the rear of the place has been kept enclosed in a tank a quantity of gasoline for cleaning purposes. This tank was separated from the main building, but it is thought fumes of gasoline were wafted by a draft into the drying and cleaning rooms, where was a small furnace used for heating purposes. Both Samuel and Frank Haldeman were at work in the rear room of the dy shop and Telson was standing near the doorway to the front rooms, with Baker still way to the front rooms, with Baker still I farther from the rear, when the explofor occurred.

There was a sudden flash, a loud report, not the dye shop seemed filled with burning gases, it is said, which quickly caused arms to ignite the flooring and wood-ork of the building. Samuel Heldeman is believed to have been nearest the fatal ank and he was fearfully burned over is entire body. Whether he inhaled any tank and he was fearfully burned over his entire body? Whether he inhaled any of the dreaded fumes is not certain, but he was taken from the shon in a precurious condition. Likewise Frank Haideman was burned about the body, while Tolson suffered a similar fate.

Frank Baker, the negro helper, ran out of the dye shop into the street and gave the alarm. Almost simultaneously smoke and flame began to besue from the building. Policeman Fotter hastened to turn in an alarm of fire from box 329. While engines were arriving the police and citizens went to the assistance of the unfortunate men within the building. Somebody ran around the corner to the office of Dr. Charles E. Hagner, who quickly responded, while a telephone message was sent to the Emergency Hospital for aid.

Samuel and Frank Haldeman were taken into a nearby drug store and given attention by Dr. Hagner and others. On the arrival of the ambulance shartly afterward Samuel Haldeman was removed to the hospital, together with Tolson, whose burns are very serious. Frank Haldeman meanwhile was taken to his

The first brewery of Jos. Schlitz was a hut, but the beer that was brewed there was honest. That was fifty years ago. Today the magnificent Schlitz brewery forms a monument to that honesty.

From the very beginning the main object has been to attain absolute purity. In Schlitz beer pure yeast was first introduced in America. In the Schlitz brewery are all the inventions men have made for protecting beer from impurities.

Schlitz beer is even cooled in filtered air; then it is filtered, then sterilized. It is well aged to avoid the cause of biliousness.

AN INCENDIARY SUSPECTED.

A Suspicious Fire Causes $500 Damage in a Grocery Store.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in the vicinity of Thirteenth and Corcoran Streets shortly after 10 o'clock last night by crics of fire, together with the bursting out of flames in the grocery store of Henry Yost, 16:9 Thirteenth Street. The fire was mainly in the rear of the building and the firemen experienced no little difficulty in securing an entrance to the building, his Mr. Yost and his family were out visiting at the time. Finally, however, an entrance was forced and by dint of burd work the flames were soon extinguished, after a diamage of $500 to both house and furniture, had resulted.

The fire, it is thought by the police of the Second precinct, was the work of an incomplained by a large can of gussoling.
